Supported Decision-making Guide

Information to help you

Easy Read version
What is this guide about?

This guide is written in an easy to read way. We use pictures to explain some ideas.

The guide has been written by WA’s Individualised Services (WAiS).

When you see the word ‘we’, it means WAiS.

This guide is about supported decision-making.

Supported decision-making is when someone helps you make important decisions about your life and how you will live.

It could be a:

- family member or relative
- close friend
- carer
- guardian – a person who makes decisions for another person.
We have written this guide to help you understand:

- how supported decision-making works
- the best ways to make good decisions together.

This Easy Read document is a summary of another document.

You can find the other document on the Resources page of our website.

Some words are written in bold. We explain what these words mean.

There is a list of these words on page 85.

You can ask for help to read this guide. A friend, family member or support person may be able to help you.
What’s in this guide?

Getting to know the person

Understanding who the person is

What is life like now?

Learning by listening

Understanding who the important people are

Understanding decisions in the person’s life

Being clear about what’s important

Resources you can use

Supported decision-making

The principles of supported decision-making

Stages of decision-making support

Resources you can use

Good support

What makes a good life?

Good support

Who is the expert?

Personal bias

Getting clear

Resources you can use
Understanding how someone communicates

- Understanding how someone communicates
- Showing others how someone communicates
- Resources you can use
- Word list
- Contact us
Getting to know the person
Understanding who the person is

We share information about ourselves so we can:

- understand each other better
- develop a good relationship.

Good decision-making support is about really understanding someone.

If you want to give someone the right decision-making support, you need to:

- work together
- really listen and hear what is important to them.
The information we find out about someone should be about:

- who the person is
- their interests
- their passions
- the special talents they have.

It shouldn’t just be about their disability and the challenges they face.

Questions to think about

By asking these questions you can:

- understand someone better
- build a good relationship.
What do I like about the person?

What do I respect about the person?

What does the person offer the people around them?

What is the person passionate about?

What hobbies and interests does the person have?
What’s really important to the person?

What do you need to know about the person’s life that makes them who they are?

Who are the people that matter to the person?

Where are the places that matter to the person?
What have they achieved in their life so far?

What would a good future look like for the person?

What have been the best times in the person’s life?

Why?

What does this teach us about them?
What is life like now?

It’s important to think about what the person’s life is like now.

It will help us learn about some really important areas, such as:

- what is important and should stay the same
- important relationships the person has
- what their goals are
- how closely their life matches:
  - who they are
  - what they want.
Learning by listening

It’s important to listen in a way that is:

• helpful
• supportive.

The person might have areas of their life that we need to know about – things that:

• are important to them now
• must be part of their future.

We might find out something about the way the person is living their life that is not right for who they are.

An example

Judy is said to be the ‘life and soul of the party’.
She loves having a good time with other people.
As part of her life now, Judy doesn’t have a chance to:

• celebrate or party with other people
• host parties of her own.

Judy’s life now does not match the type of person she is and how she wants to live.
We can support Judy by making sure she has plenty of chances to host parties of her own.
Understanding who the important people are

Everyone has important people in their life.

People we:

- like
- respect
- love.

We use these people for support when we need to make important decisions.

They can offer us their point of view based on how well they know us.

We choose certain people depending on the decision we have to make.

Some people might need help working out who the right person is.
We need to know who is important in someone’s life so we:

- know who to work with
- can make the right decisions.

It can be helpful to have a circle of support.

A circle of support is a group of people who:

- care about the person
- understand the person
- have a good relationship with the person
- can help make decisions
- the person wants to have involved.
Understanding decisions in the person’s life

It’s important to think about how:

- we all make our own decisions
- we all use the support of other people
- the person makes their own decisions
- other people help the person make decisions.
The table below can help you.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Decisions I make</th>
<th>Decisions I use support to make</th>
<th>Decisions other people make</th>
<th>Meaningful ways the person can take part in decision-making</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>• what to wear</td>
<td>• what to spend money on</td>
<td>• big decisions about money</td>
<td>• talking about what:</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>• what to eat</td>
<td>• where to live</td>
<td>• health</td>
<td>o they want</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>• who to spend time with</td>
<td>• who to live with</td>
<td></td>
<td>o is right for them</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>• what music to listen to</td>
<td>• who will give support</td>
<td></td>
<td>• sharing important information</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>• where to work</td>
<td></td>
<td>• having good ways to communicate</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Step 1 – understanding who is in a person’s life

There are many ways to work out who is close to the person.

Work together to list people who:

- are important
- have a positive relationship
- understand the person well.

What do they show us about the kind of people the person gets along with?

What is it about these people that the person likes?

Why are those things important?
This chart is one way to do that.

Put the person at the centre of the chart – write their name or use a photo.

Add other people’s names or photos to the other sections.
Put the people who are closest to the person near the centre, close to the person.

Put people who are connected, but not so close, further out.

Think about what it would take to get people near the outside to be part of a circle of support.
Ask the person:

Who are the people you are closest to – the ones you couldn’t live without?

Are they:

- people in your family?
- people from work?
- neighbours?

Who are the people you:

- do things with?
- talk to?
- work with?
- spend time with?

Who do you spend the most time with?
Who are the people that know you best?

Who are the people you trust and can rely on?

Who are the people that support you to live your life?

Step 2 – understanding what a circle of support might offer

Work with the most important people to find out how they could support the person to make decisions.

For example, there may be someone who:

- loves the person and will make sure their voice is always heard
- knows a lot about housing and could help make a housing decision.
The chart below shows you a way to work out what each person might have to offer.

How do other people take part in your life?

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>People</th>
<th>Ways they could offer support</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>
| Kate – John’s mum             | She loves John to bits and will protect what matters to him. She wants John to have choice and control so she will support John to be heard. She can help make decisions about John’s:
  - day-to-day living
  - future planning
  - housing
  - work.                                                              |
| Ted – a long-time support person | He understands what matters to John. He would make a good support for John. He has supported John to make decisions in the past such as:
  - everyday choices
  - good supports to use.                                               |
Being clear about what’s important

Sometimes, when you rely on support, the focus is on things that will keep you:

- safe
- healthy.

There can be less focus on what is important to you.

It’s important to find a balance between what is:

- important to you
- important for you.

Working out the difference is important when you are supporting someone to make decisions.
The chart below can help you.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Important to you</th>
<th>Important for you</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Relationships and people to be with.</td>
<td>Things that need to be remembered including their:</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Things to do.</td>
<td>• health</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Places to go.</td>
<td>• safety</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Routines.</td>
<td>• wellbeing</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pace of life.</td>
<td>• emotional needs</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Things to have or own.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Includes:</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>• what matters the most to the person</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>• what a good life means to them.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>They express what they want using their:</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>• words</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>• actions.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>When the words and actions don’t match up, pay attention to their actions.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Resources you can use

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Decisions I make</th>
<th>Decisions I use support to make</th>
<th>Decisions other people make</th>
<th>Meaningful ways the person can take part in decision-making</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Exploring the important people in the person’s life

Diagram showing relationships between family, friends, paid people, and others.
Exploring the contributions of people in your life

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>People</th>
<th>Ways they could offer support</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Important to</td>
<td>Important for</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>-------------</td>
<td>--------------</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Supported decision-making
The principles of supported decision-making

There are some important ideas behind supported decision-making.

We call them the principles of supported decision-making:

- I can make decisions.
- Being able to decide depends on each decision.
- Offer me the support that is right for me.
- Listen to what I choose and like.
• I have the right to make unwise decisions.

• I have the right to learn from trying things.

• I can change my mind.

• Give me enough information about the choices I have.

• Involve me in decisions about my life.

• I have good people supporting me and my decisions
Stages of decision-making support

There are stages to go through when you support someone to make a decision:

1. What is the decision?

2. Who are the right people to give support? When is the right time to give support?

3. How should we communicate about this decision?

4. What’s the right information to give?
   - Good things that could happen?
   - Things that could go wrong?
   - Risks?
5. How can we support you to weigh up the decision?

6. How do we hear your decision?

7. Supporting you to act on the decision.
1. What is the decision?

You need to be clear about the actual decision that must be made.

There could be more than 1 decision to make.

It’s helpful to focus on making 1 decision at a time.
2. Who are the right people to give support?

We often choose who we want to support us with our decision-making based on:

- the decision we are facing
- who is available.

It’s important to:

- choose the right person
- understand who is:
  - available
  - close to the person
- know what people can offer
- think about problems that might come up.
Choosing the right people to give support

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>People</th>
<th>Ways they could offer support</th>
<th>Problems that might come up</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>
| Kate – John’s mum       | She loves John to bits and will protect what matters to him. She wants John to have choice and control so she will support John to be heard. She can help make decisions about John’s:
  • day-to-day living
  • future planning
  • housing
  • work.                                                                                                                    | She worries about John’s safety and risks he might take.
  She might worry about John doing new things that seem risky.
  She wants to be involved in John’s life.                                                                                     |
| Ted – a long-time support person | He understands what matters to John. He would make a good support for John. He has supported John to make decisions in the past such as:
  • day-to-day
  • good supports to use.                                                                                                      | He believes he knows best about what good support is.
  He has opinions about different organisations based on the work he has done before.                                                                                   |
You can use the tool below to help someone choose who could offer the right support for a decision they need to make.

What is the decision?

_____________________________________________________________

Who can help me make this decision?

_____________________________________________________________

Example:

What is the decision?

To go on holiday to Rottnest

Who can help me make this decision?

Louise – My support worker
3. When is the right time to give support?

It’s important to work out the right time and place to give someone support to make their decision.

Some people try and find a quiet place the person already knows so they feel:

- comfortable
- safe and secure.

Thinking about the right time and place should be based on what we know about a person:

- what they like
- what they don’t like
- what works best for them.
4. How should we communicate about this decision?

You need to understand how someone communicates so you can support their decision-making.

You need to give the person a way to communicate their decision with you.

You should give the person the information they need, in a way they understand.

Think about how the person prefers to get information and try:

- using visuals – photos or videos
- taking them to go and see things that relate to the decision.

Some people can handle:

- a lot of information at once
- only a little bit of information at a time.
5. What’s the right information to give?

It can be hard to make a decision when you don’t know anything about it.

Some people may not have much experience at making decisions.

Working out which information matters the most, and how much you should give, will support the person to understand the decision better.

You might need to limit the information – give them 1 or 2 options instead of 5.

They need to understand the:

- good things that could happen
- things that could go wrong
- risks.
You might ask yourself:

What information do they need?

How can I give the person the information:

- in a way that works for them?
- thinking about who they are?
- using what I know about them?

You can deliver the information in a way that is right for the person.

We call this framing a decision.
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>What is the decision?</th>
<th>What information will help the person understand the decision?</th>
<th>What’s the best way to frame the decision so the person can:</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>
| Whether to go on a holiday to New Zealand. | • information about New Zealand
• holiday brochures
• talking to people who have been there
• getting information about:
  o costs
  o flights o places to stay
  o things to do
• who to go with
• how to pay for the holiday | • show them pictures and videos of New Zealand
• work out a way to limit hotel choices
• show how money could be spent
• do the ‘Weighing up the decision’ exercise on page 51. |
6. How can we support you to weigh up the decision?

When you weigh up a decision, you think about the:

- good things that could happen
- things that could go wrong.

Knowing these things can help you make a decision.

Sometimes just talking about them is enough.

Some people find it useful to actually weigh up the good things that could happen and things that could go wrong.

You could use:

- the template below
- a real set of weights.
Weighing up a decision template

What is the decision?

7. How do we hear your decision?

When you support someone to make decisions, you must:

- listen
- hear what they have to say
- respect what they want.

Some people have ways to get the decision they want for the person. For example:

- persuasion
- encouragement
- using a certain tone of voice.
This may not respect the person.

We need to think carefully about:

- how we might affect the decision the person makes

- how we give our support for decisions that have:
  - risks
  - things that could go wrong.

8. Supporting you to act on your decision

We talk about this more in the next section.
Resources you can use

Supporting the person to make a decision

- What is the decision?
- Who are the right people to give support? When is the right time to give support?
- How should we communicate about this decision?
- What’s the right information to give?
  - Good things that could happen?
  - Things that could go wrong?
  - Risks?
- How do we hear your decision?
- Supporting you to act on the decision
- How can we support you to weigh up the decision?
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>People</th>
<th>Ways they could offer support</th>
<th>Problems that might come up</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
What is the decision?

Who can help me make this decision?

Why should I choose them?

Will the decision affect my support person?

Why shouldn’t I choose them?
Framing a Decision

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>What is the decision?</th>
<th>What information will help the person understand the decision?</th>
<th>What’s the best way to frame the decision so the person can:</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>- understand?</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>- make a decision?</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Weighing up a decision

What is the decision?

What is good about this?  What is not good about this?
Good support
What makes a good life?

We all choose to live our lives in a way that:

- makes sense to us

- is based on our:
  - interests
  - what’s important to us
  - what’s important for our health and wellbeing.

Having a good life is different for everyone.
There are 5 areas that are important in developing a good life:

- sharing ordinary places
- making choices
- developing abilities
- being treated with respect and having a valued role in the community
- growing in relationships.

We need to give people support in a way that offers them a better chance of success in these 5 areas.
We need to think about:

- how our support works for people
- if our support is getting people closer to the 5 areas, or further away.

What’s working towards this?

What’s working against this?

You can use the table below to help you work this out.
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Working towards</th>
<th>A good life</th>
<th>Working against</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Sharing ordinary places</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Making choices</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Developing abilities</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Being treated with respect</td>
<td>Being treated with respect and having a valued role in the community</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Growing in relationships</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Good support

Good support depends on what makes sense for the person needing the support.

Good support comes from choosing the best person to support you. This can also affect supported decision-making.

People often choose people to support them who have:

- similar interests
- certain personalities
- certain skills and talents.

It’s important to help the person think about who they would like to have support them.
There are 5 main ideas behind being a good supporter:

• Focus your attention on what is happening here and now.

• Make sure supporting the person to make their own decision is the reason for what you are doing.

• Understand the beliefs that you have that could affect how you support the person.
• Understand how your attitude can:
  o shape everything
  o lead to things getting better.

• Believe that:
  o people can, and do, make their own decisions
  o creativity can lead to new possibilities.

• Be someone who:
  o brings out the best in other people
  o understands how you can affect other people
  o finds ways to make sure the person feels comfortable.
Who is the expert?

People and their families are the experts on:

- their own lives
- the support they need.

A support person becomes important when they understand and care about the person, their family and their situation.

Good support means offering support to work out decisions based on:

- the person and what’s important to them
- what’s important for their health and wellbeing.

Some support people might think they know:

- every answer
- what’s best for the person.

This can affect the person and their family – they need to feel like they’re the experts.
Working on the inside – personal checklist

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Ways to do things</th>
<th>Things I might try</th>
<th>Things I will try</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Think about who the expert is</td>
<td>How do you support people and their families to be the experts when you work with them?</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>How do you show that you respect others as being the expert?</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>What would people and their families say about this?</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Be in the here and now</td>
<td>How do you focus your attention on what is happening here and now?</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Are there ways you could try:</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>• mindfulness</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>• meditation?</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Try really being present at different moments during the day.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>How can you and the people you work with be more mindful?</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ways to do things</td>
<td>Things I might try</td>
<td>Things I will try</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>-------------------</td>
<td>--------------------</td>
<td>-------------------</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Check the reasons why you are doing this</td>
<td>Describe the big picture of what you want to achieve. Look at the things you support people to take part in. Are you clear about what the intention is? Talk to people and their families about what they believe the intention is. What does this mean for you and your role?</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Understand your beliefs</td>
<td>Think about how you see the people you are connected to, including people you work with. What is your team’s story? Who are you as a team? What are you supporting people to achieve? What can you learn from stories you are told about families? How can you influence the stories that are told about people you support?</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ways to do things</td>
<td>Things I might try</td>
<td>Things I will try</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>------------------</td>
<td>--------------------</td>
<td>-------------------</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
| Be positive      | Understand the things that help you be positive. Make sure you include them in your day.
Turn the negative things you say to yourself into positive things.
Look for the positive things about other people.
How can you help you and your team be positive? | |
| See possibility  | Start dreaming about your life. What would your ideal life look like? What small steps could you take to get closer to that?
Dream together with people you are connected to. What would their ideal life look like? What small steps could you take to get closer to that? | |
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Ways to do things</th>
<th>Things I might try</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Understand your effect on others</td>
<td>Ask people you trust for feedback – do my emotions affect you?</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Ask for feedback from:</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>• people you work with</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>• families.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Look back at your week and think about times when how you were feeling might have</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>affected the job you were doing.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Personal bias

Someone giving decision-making support might have strong opinions about a decision because the result will affect them.

We call this a personal bias.

The supporter needs to:

- be open and honest about a possible personal bias
- look into other support the person could use for the decision.

There are some things you need to think about:

- how you might be affected by the result of a decision
• what the personal bias is

• how you can support the person with the decision in a way that is fair

• other people who could support the person with this decision instead.

It can be hard to admit if there is a personal bias.

It’s helpful to be honest and direct about a possible personal bias.

Using the chart below can help you work out if there is a personal bias.
Example

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>People</th>
<th>Ways they could offer support</th>
<th>Possible personal bias</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Kate – John’s mum</td>
<td>She loves John to bits and will protect what matters to him.</td>
<td>She worries about John:</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>She wants John to have choice and control. She will support John to be heard.</td>
<td>• being safe</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>She can help make decisions about John’s:</td>
<td>• taking risks.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>• day-to-day living</td>
<td>She worries about John doing new things that seem risky. They scare her.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>• future planning</td>
<td>She wants to be involved in John’s life.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>• housing</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>• work.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ted – a long-time support person</td>
<td>He understands what matters to John.</td>
<td>He knows best about what good support is.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>He would make a good support person for John.</td>
<td>He has opinions about different organisations based on the work he has done before.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>He has supported John to make decisions in the past such as:</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>• day-to-day</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>• good supports to use.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Getting clear

Being clear about decision-making is very helpful for:

• the person

• their supporters.

It’s important to:

• record the decisions that are made

• review them – look at them again to make sure they are still right.

This gives you an agreement about the decisions and how the person will take part.
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>What is the decision?</th>
<th>Who are the right people to offer support?</th>
<th>What’s the right way to communicate?</th>
<th>What’s the right way to present the information?</th>
<th>How can we support the person to weigh up the decision?</th>
<th>How do we hear the person’s decision?</th>
<th>How do we support the person to act on the decision?</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Whether to go on a holiday in March</td>
<td>Dad and best friend John</td>
<td>Use communication board</td>
<td>Visuals: • photos • videos</td>
<td>Understand that there will be time away from home Look at the total cost and how that will affect other things</td>
<td>Understand how the person communicates Include people who know the person well</td>
<td>Help with online bookings Practise packing a suitcase</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Be clear about the actual decision</td>
<td>What are the good things that could happen? What are the problems that might come up?</td>
<td>What do we know about the best way to communicate with the person?</td>
<td>What do we know about what works best for the person?</td>
<td>What do we know is important: • to the person? • for the person?</td>
<td>Be clear about how you will know the person has made their decision</td>
<td>How do we: • support the person to act on the decision • see how they respond?</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Resources you can use

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Working towards</th>
<th>A good life</th>
<th>Working against</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Sharing ordinary places</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Making choices</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Developing abilities</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Being treated with respect and having a valued role in the community</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Growing in relationships</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ways to do things</td>
<td>Things I might try</td>
<td>Things I will try</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>-------------------</td>
<td>--------------------</td>
<td>-------------------</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Think about who the expert is</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Be in the here and now</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ways to do things</td>
<td>Things I might try</td>
<td>Things I will try</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>-------------------</td>
<td>--------------------</td>
<td>-------------------</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Check the reasons why you are doing this</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Understand your beliefs</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ways to do things</td>
<td>Things I might try</td>
<td>Things I will try</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>-------------------</td>
<td>--------------------</td>
<td>-------------------</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Be positive</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>See possibility</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Understanding your own impact</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Recording Decision Making

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>What is the decision?</th>
<th>Who are the right people to offer support?</th>
<th>What’s the right way to communicate?</th>
<th>What’s the right way to present the information?</th>
<th>How can we support the person to weigh up the decision?</th>
<th>How do we hear the person’s decision?</th>
<th>How do we support the person to act on the decision?</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Be clear about the actual decision</td>
<td>What are the good things that could happen?</td>
<td>What do we know about the best way to communicate with the person?</td>
<td>What do we know about what works best for the person?</td>
<td>What do we know is important: • to the person? • for the person?</td>
<td>Be clear about how you will know the person has made their decision</td>
<td>How do we: • support the person to act on the decision • see how they respond?</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Understanding how someone communicates
Understanding how someone communicates

Communication is about expressing yourself with another person.

It could be your:

- thoughts
- feelings
- desires
- wants
- wishes.

Communication is very important when you support someone’s decision-making.
You need to keep listening to, and learning with, the person.

Everyone has their own way of expressing themselves.

To be a good communication partner you need to learn how the other person:

- communicates with you
- needs you to communicate with them.

Not everybody uses speech or words to communicate.
You may need to find other ways, such as:

- objects
- photos
- drawings
- symbols
- sign language
- body language.

Many people have a way of communicating that:

- only they use
- only people who know them well can understand.

It’s important to keep a record of how someone communicates so other people around the person can learn their style.
The communication chart below shows you how to do this.

Communication chart

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>At this time</th>
<th>The person says or does this</th>
<th>We think it means</th>
<th>You should do this</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>When does this happen?</td>
<td>When does this happen?</td>
<td>What does everyone think it means?</td>
<td>What do we agree we should do in response?</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Are there certain times or places?</td>
<td></td>
<td>At times we may need to use our best guess.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>any time</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>the person’s neck goes red</td>
<td>embarrassed</td>
<td>reassure them that things are ok, it’s not the end of the world</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>in the morning</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>• asks a lot of questions about other people</td>
<td>needs to know what is happening today but doesn’t know how to ask</td>
<td>• sit down with the ‘now and then’ board</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>• isn’t satisfied with the answers given</td>
<td></td>
<td>• put the right photos on for the day</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

How other people should communicate

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>At this time or in this situation</th>
<th>When we want the person to:</th>
<th>You should do or say this</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>At 7 o’clock in the morning</td>
<td>It’s time for work</td>
<td>• show me the work photo symbol</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>• tell me it’s time for work</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Showing others how someone communicates

There are ways you can support someone’s communication that are:

- practical
- person-centred.

You can create a:

- communication passport
- personal profile.

Communication passports and personal profiles describe:

- who the person is
- what is important to the person in their everyday life
- what other people need to know about how the person communicates
- what to do so the person can be:
  - listened to
  - heard
  - understood.
The topics covered include:

- my journey

- who I am

- things you need to know about me

- who is important to me – people in my life

- things that others like about me
• things I like or don’t like – food, places, people, hobbies, animals

• things I like to do

• places I like to go

• who I like to do things with

• what I like to talk about
• things that are important to me

• things that are important for me – health and wellbeing

• how I communicate

• what you need to do to:
  o understand me
  o support my communication.
Resources you can use

The following chart explores how the person communicates with others:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>At this time</th>
<th>The person says or does this</th>
<th>We think it means</th>
<th>You should do this</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>When does this happen?</td>
<td>What do you see the person do?</td>
<td>What does everyone think it means? At times we may need to use our best guess.</td>
<td>What do we agree we should do in response?</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Are there certain times or places?</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
The following chart explores how others communicate with the person

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>At this time or in this situation</th>
<th>When we want the person to:</th>
<th>You should do or say this</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>- know or understand something</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>- do something</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Word list

Circle of support

A group of people who:

- know and understand the person
- can help make decisions.

Framing a decision

Delivering information in a way that is right for the person.

Guardian

A person who makes decisions for another person.

Personal bias

When someone giving support has strong opinions about a decision because the result will affect them.
Principles of supported decision-making

The important ideas behind supported decision-making.

Supported decision-making

When someone helps you make important decisions about your life and how you will live.
Contact us

If you have any questions, please contact us - WA’s Individualised Services.

(08) 9481 0101

admin@waindividualisedservices.org.au

www.waindividualisedservices.org.au

This Easy Read document was created by the Information Access Group using PhotoSymbols, stock photography and custom images. The images may not be reused without permission. For any enquiries about the images, please visit www.informationaccessgroup.com. Quote job number 2673-A.