What is Single Touch Payroll (STP)?

Single Touch Payroll (STP)

Single Touch Payroll (STP) is an

Australian Taxation Office (ATO) system that sends employee payroll information (wages paid, tax withheld, superannuation) to the ATO at the time payroll is processed.

You will need to use STP if you have employees and pay wages.

Who should use STP?

From 1 July 2021, all employers must start using STP. This includes people who are employing workers using a Withholding Payer Number (WPN).

Before STP

At the end of each financial year employers calculate the total amount of their employees' wages; the amount of tax they have withheld; superannuation payments and any other payments or deductions.

Employers would report this to the employee by giving them a Payment Summary and send this information to the ATO.

After STP

STP enabled software needs to be used by all employers and it will report payroll information to the ATO throughout the year. This means, at the end of each financial year, you will no longer need to give your employee a Payment Summary or send this information to the ATO.

You can claim the cost of any of these options from your NDIS funding if you are self managed or plan managed.

• You will need to start using STP enabled payroll software.

The ATO provide a list of options.

www.ato.gov.au/Business/Single-Touch-Payroll/ In-detail/Software-solutions-for-Single-Touch-Payroll/

OR

• You can use a bookkeeper/accountant to do your payroll for you

This general information guide is current as at March 2021. Please note that over time some of the links provided may not work as governing bodies change their website layouts. If a link does not work, we recommend you source the relevant document using a title search with an Internet search engine.

Disclaimer: This information sheet is provided as general information only. It is not legal advice. Please consult a professional advisor (for example, a lawyer or accountant) if you require legal or financial advice in relation to your own individual circumstances.